Investment Risks

Fixed income securities are subject to interest rate risks. The principal value of a bond falls when interest rates rise and rise when interest rates fall. During periods of rising interest rates, the value of a bond investment is at greater risk than during periods of stable or falling rates. Short-term investment-grade bonds offer less risk and generally a lower rate of return than longer-term higher yielding bonds. Bond funds will tend to experience smaller fluctuations in value than stock funds. However, investors in any bond fund should anticipate fluctuations in price, especially for longer-term issues and in environments of changing interest rates. The Fund's income may be subject to certain state and local taxes and, depending on one's tax status, to the federal alternative minimum tax.

Important Disclosures

<sup>1</sup> The 30-day SEC Yield is calculated by dividing the net investment income per share for the 30 days ended on the date of calculation by the offering price per share on that date. The figure is calculated according to a formula set by the SEC which requires use of a specific methodology for calculating dividends and interest earned, and expenses accrued, during the period. The standardized computation is designed to facilitate yield comparisons among different funds. Certain fund expenses may have been waived or reimbursed. Had waivers and reimbursements not been in effect, the SEC yields would have been 2.39% for A Shares, 2.34% for Investor Shares and 2.66% for Institutional Shares.

<sup>2</sup> The Bloomberg 1-Year Municipal Bond Index is an unmanaged index that includes bonds with a minimum credit rating of BAA3, are issued as part of a deal of at least $50 million, have an amount outstanding of at least $5 million, and have maturities of 1 to 2 years. The index is unmanaged and does not reflect the deduction of the expenses associated with a mutual fund, such as investment management and fund accounting fees. The Fund's performance reflects the deduction of fees for these services, but does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares. Investors cannot invest directly in an index.

<sup>4</sup> Turnover Ratio is a measure of trading activity for a rolling 12-month period represented by the percentage of a fund's assets that have changed over the course of the time period. Duration measures bond price volatility by measuring the length of a bond.
